VIP Reception: 11:30 a.m. – 12:00 p.m. | Lunch: 12:00 – 1:30 p.m.

David Salvo – Managing Director, Alliance for Securing Democracy

David Salvo is the managing director of the Alliance for Securing Democracy (ASD) at the German Marshall Fund. He is an expert in Russian affairs and foreign interference with experience analyzing Russia and other authoritarian countries' toolkits to undermine democracy at home and abroad for more than 20 years. He joined ASD as a resident fellow in 2017 and his commentary on US-Russian relations, Russian foreign policy, and foreign interference has been featured on DW News, NPR, CNN, and more.

Before joining ASD, David served as a foreign service officer in the US Department of State, most recently as the deputy secretary of state's policy advisor for Europe, Eurasia, and international security issues. He also advised senior-level negotiators on protracted conflicts in the South Caucasus, worked on US policy toward NATO and the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe, and served abroad in Russia and Bosnia and Herzegovina. He speaks Russian and Serbo-Croatian and has a basic knowledge of French.

David holds an M.A. from Georgetown University's Center for Eurasian, Russian, and East European Studies and a B.A. in government and Russian from Georgetown University. He is an avid music lover and plays in several Washington, DC-area bands, including a tribute band to the rock band Phish.

Bret Schafer – Senior Fellow, Alliance for Securing Democracy

Bret Schafer is a senior fellow for information manipulation issues at the Alliance for Securing Democracy (ASD) at the German Marshall Fund. He is an expert in digital and computational propaganda, state-backed information operations, and technology regulation. Bret is the creator and manager of ASD's Hamilton 2.0 Dashboard, an online open-source tool that tracks the outputs of Russian, Chinese, and Iranian state media outlets, diplomats, and government officials. Bret has participated in conferences around the globe and advised numerous governments and international organizations. His research has been cited in the New York Times, Wall Street Journal, and the Washington Post and he has appeared on CNN, NBC News, MSNBC, and more.

Before joining ASD, Bret spent more than ten years in the television and film industry, including in roles at Cartoon Network and Warner Brothers. He also worked in Budapest, Hungary as a radio host and in Berlin, Germany as a semi-professional baseball player in Germany's Bundesliga.

Bret holds an M.A. in public diplomacy from the University of Southern California and a B.A. in communications with a major in radio, television, and film from Northwestern University.
